

Fondazione
Giovanni ed Annamaria Cottino

COTTINO SOCIAL IMPACT CAMPUS

A1 – DEAN

Job Description

Fondazione Cottino is an Italian philanthropic foundation aiming at promoting social progress via impactful actions and cutting-edge projects.

In 2018, Fondazione Cottino started an envisioning research on how to build and share impact culture via transformative education and hence established a visionary project called “Cottino Social Impact Campus”.

Cottino Social Impact Campus is a foresighting initiative fully dedicated to the building, delivering and spreading of impact culture via transformative education.

Cottino Social Impact Campus is a unique venture in Europe aiming at attracting best and free minds ready and motivated to shape the culture of tomorrow in terms of social sustainability and social innovation via challenge-based and evidence-based endeavours.

The impact education offer is developed by researchers, academics, practitioners and innovators from all over the world while creating together a new vision of the world: more sustainable, equitable and just.

Different and new disciplines and experiential learning tracks will be offered to enable individuals to become transformative leaders and companies to become transformative organizations.

Fondazione
Giovanni ed Annamaria Cottino

The Campus Dean is the Chief Education Officer: visionary, impactful, expert and ready to work as the leader in a diverse team on a diverse array of research topics, which will be at the basis of new impact education contents.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- She/he leads research studies in order to define impact culture new contents
- She/he develops new relations in order to co-design new impact culture educational modules
- She/he coordinates a design team on impact culture educational programs while managing the demand-offer matching
- She/he develops an impact measurement model for SICC activities
- She/he designs and develops impact-based courses and selects high-standing academics and practitioners/professionals to provide high-standing offer on ongoing basis
- She/he manages and controls the learning campus activities
- She/he teaches one course per track
- She/he screens, interviews, hires and evaluates other academic campus-level staff and ensures they are aware of performance expectations in the appropriate areas of responsibility
- She/he designs and implements the social impact campus development program by, among other things, providing information on the availability of professional growth and development opportunities, participation in professional associations, international networks and affiliation, and the development, execution and evaluation of the social impact campus development plans
- She/he manages the campus to achieve its overall development objectives linked to its founding vision.

Fondazione
Giovanni ed Annamaria Cottino

EDUCATION & ATTITUDE

7+ year-experience in tertiary educational sector, preferably in executive education

Established knowledge and research practice on social innovation, social entrepreneurship, transformative modelling, impact measurement and investing

Master Degree in business administration, educational design, service design, social sciences, humanities, ethnography, economics, social science, any other discipline relevant to the development of impact culture educational offer

Direct experience in the coordination and design of innovative educational modules/innovative learning methodology and innovation research programs

Direct Knowledge and experience of impact-oriented projects and research supported via design-thinking/systemic design methodology

Strong entrepreneurial attitude, able to build relations and contents for Cottino Social Impact Campus

Strong research abilities with specific attitude on hybridation among different disciplines and ideation of new impact educational contents

Strong ability to work in a team and deliver per planning

International experience

Ability to attract new partners and funding

JOB SKILLS

- Ability to promote academic quality
- Ability to manage people, processes and projects
- Excellent organizational and interpersonal skills
- Excellent problem solving ability
- Demonstrated successful managerial experience, including the ability to train

Fondazione
Giovanni ed Annamaria Cottino

and mentor campus Faculty members

- Understanding of tertiary education innovation opportunities
- Strong analytical and quantitative skills to interpret and act on various management reports
- Demonstrated ability to identify and develop talent for future leadership roles

COMMUNICATION SKILLS

- Strong oral and written communication skills in Italian and English*

If not proficient in Italian, language training will be provided*

This Job Post is an open, international process and we are ready to provide you with further information.

We offer a great location of work, cutting-edge team, challenging and international environment, close and direct relationship with Fondazione Cottino Board of Directors and Management.

We offer a competitive salary, negotiable based on competences, experience and motivation to join.

Please contact directly Mr. Giuseppe Dell'Erba:

giuseppe.dellerba@fondazionecottino.it